Bruce's accomplishments.

Bruce started his piping career in New Zealand at the age of nine. He played with the City of Wellington Pipe Band who were the New Zealand Grade 1 champions.

After competing at the World Pipe Band Championships in 1975, Bruce stayed in Scotland to compete solo around the Highland Games circuit. He enlisted in the Queens Own Highlanders.

in 1978 under the guidance of P/M Iain Morrison (Lewis), he won a silver medal for Piobaireachd at Oban in 1979. The late Captain Andrew Pitkeathly (Argyll & Sutherland Highlanders) tutored Bruce in Piobaireachd for many years.

Bruce became Pipe Major of the Q.O.H. in 1986 and served in this position for 5 years. After one year as P/M of the Scottish Division's Piping School, Bruce was appointed Senior Pipe Major of the British Army and Chief Instructor at the Army School of Piping, Edinburgh Castle.

Since leaving regular service in the Army, Bruce was commissioned into the Territorial Army with responsibility for piping in the TA and Cadet Forces. He founded a successful reed-making and bagpipe supply business. Bruce travels world wide providing instruction and running various piping schools and workshops. He teaches at the College of Piping Summer School in Carlsbad CA and runs the Jim Thompson US School of Piping and Drumming in Flagstaff AZ.
